CONCERNING JEALOUSIES.

Commenting on the Sacramento Bee's recent appeal to the Republicans of the Pacific Coast to stand united in the national convention on the silver question, the Santa Cruz Surf says:

"If the Bee will listen to the Surf, it will not waste any energy in the effort to induce Pacific Coast states to put its shoulders to anything until there has been a whole cometary dilled with the political grates of the politicians who are now on top in California. They will divide and differ and become non-entities to the end of the chapter. The reason why California cannot hold any balance of power, dictate any policy, or secure any representative in the high places of the nation is told in the following paragraph from a local exchange: 'The petty and unfortunate jealousies of our politicians trip the feet of any Californian who gives up his loins to run in the race for political preferment. In order to gratify little spite and combustible jealousies the small men who sway politics destroy the chances of able men, and so the door to national distinction is slammed in the face of every strong man who comes to knock at the portals.'"

A great deal of this sort of talk is indulged in by excellent newspapers, but the REPUBLICAN does not believe that it is much justified by the facts, any more than it believes that it is beneficial to California to manufacture this sort of a reputation for foreign inspection. It undoubtedly is true that there is too much of "unfortunate jealousies" among our politicians, and that "small men who sway politics" indulge themselves too extensively in "little spite," but we consider it very doubtful that California is more afflicted in this respect than are other states. Everywhere the men who sway politics are apt to be small, and the name of the state that is not troubled by little spite is not found on the complete list of maps. Are our factions any more turbulent and hostile than those of New York, for instance? And are our political family jars any more in evidence than those of, say, Kentucky? The answer to both of these questions probably will be in the negative, and about as many similar questions might be asked as there are states in the Union. The fact is that the peculiarities of human nature are much the same everywhere.

But, say the proponents of the theory that the men of California are peculiarly jealous and spiteful, the men of this state secure few national offices, and clearly this must be due to the abnormal and petty malice which prompts our citizens to deny one another as soon as one is mentioned for place. Clearly it must be due to nothing of the kind. If that is the deterring cause, how does it happen that a no less evident jealousy produces no such effect in the eastern states? How does it happen that New York—to again use that state as an illustration—manages to supply very many officials for the nation? The answer is evident. It is because local spite in itself does not establish the status of a state in national affairs. What, then, does? The density of population, as represented by the number of votes. The east has the votes; the west lacks them. Give us the votes, and no local jealousy would prevent us from playing an important part in national affairs, more than similar jealousy prevents the east from doing so now. Jealousy is a part of universal human nature, and it does not blossom in particular soils or under certain suns. This Pacific coast of which we are so proud is a large fraction of the national domain, but it furnishes a very small fraction of the national vote. Its population is hardly one-thirtieth of that of the United States; it is scarcely one-half of that of the state of New York.

Talk as we may of "little spite" as a deterring force in the game of politics, we may be very sure that when we have considered these comparative figures we have found the real reason of the Pacific Coast's little weight in national affairs. Of course local jealousies are deplorable, but they do not constitute the reason why California is not wont to be represented on national tickets or in Presidential cabinets, and we may as well disabuse our minds of the idea that they do.

Withal, would it not be better to cease forever advertising that we are petty and spiteful? We are made of one clay with all mankind, and our resemblance to our brother, wherever he is found, is quite striking.

COLONEL W. P. ROBERTSON, who is described in the press dispatches as an active politician and one of the leading Democrats of Tennessee, has been expressing himself very frankly about the political situation in the South. The Colonel says that the southern states are for silver, and he thinks it likely that the Republicans will smash the Solid South to smithereens at the coming election—in fact, that only one state, Mississippi, will stay in the Democratic column. This opinion is based on the expectation that the Democratic national convention will adopt a sound money platform, and that the party will split. The opinion of the Tennessee seer Colonel can, at least, claim the merit of not being influenced by partisan prejudice.

COLONEL HUNTINGTON says that there are perhaps a hundred men in California who are opposed to his funding scheme. They are smart fellows, too, he says, and unscrupulous. We have thought, sometimes that the Colonel was inclined to exaggerate, but this makes us think that we may have done him an injustice. In this instance, at least, he has made a very conservative estimate. It may be different elsewhere, but there are not less than 5000 men in Fresno county who are opposed to funding the debt of the Pacific roads. This is only one county, of course, but there is enough opposition in it to the funding job here to make it clear that Colonel Huntington has not indulged in any exaggeration on this occasion.

SENATOR JOHN SULLIVAN appears to be considerably in earnest in regard to the Cuban question. Thursday in the course of some burning remarks on that subject he asked: "If war does not exist in Cuba, where, outside of hell, does it exist?" Excepting Abyssinia and the Kentucky legislature, we do not know where. The inference to be drawn from the Senator's statement, indeed, that conditions are more warlike in hell than in Cuba, is in the nature of news to us.

This March Avenue contains a magnificently illustrated paper written by Justice Walter Clark, L.L.D., of the supreme bench of North Carolina on "Mexico in Midwinter." Incidentally the jurist discusses the silver question as it was brought to his attention during his recent extensive trip throughout our sister republic.

RANDOM REMARKS.

Miss Alice Broom of Bakersfield has registered as a voter. Now here is what perplexes a person. Clearly, Miss Broom is a New Woman. But if she is a New Woman, she must also be a New Broom. Then why should she not stay at home and sweep clean, instead of yarning to voters? Such are the questions that give a man a headache and turn him to drink before he has lived out half his days. Brethren, let us return to the Venezuelan question.

"It is said that about the only person in Wichita who does not attend Mrs. Lease's sermon is Mr. Lease."—As reported. But chide him not, oh, earnest, thoughtful man. Nor deny condemn him for that vacant place within the temple where salvation's plan His gospel preaches, and eke the means of grace. For if he miss all her sermons there, He will for ever be still doing his man. It's very little Mr. Lease need care. For who shall doubt he gets enough at home?

The value of an Oakland kiss still is involved in grave doubt. The action brought by Mrs. Bridget Barron of that city against B. O'Connor for $15,000 for four kisses he purchased from her, has been dropped from the court calendar. It has not been stated whether the case was compromised or whether the court shrank from trying to put a monetary value on Oakland kisses of the mixed gender, but we would not blame the judge at all if the latter was the case. There are some mighty pretty women in Oakland.

In this world it is everything to be courteous, my boy. Here is a dispatch which says that Mrs. Trader of Richmond, Ind., was compelled to secure a divorce from her husband. As courtesy demands, we commend Mrs. Trader. A closer inspection of the dispatch, however, reveals the fact that she took her maiden name of Smith. Well, then, we sympathize with Mrs. Smith. In three minutes from the time the decree of divorce was granted, Mrs. Smith had married Mr. Tyler. We congratulate Mrs. Tyler. As has been suggested, it pays to be courteous, but sometimes it requires rapid locomotion.

requisition, and the important news has been borne on the wings of the lightning across an ocean and a continent. What a charming and delightful thing! "Republican simplicity!" And how it does wear out the knees of its trousers or the front of its petticoat before royalty or a title, wherever it is found! That is, some of our republican simplicity does. It has been said that there is no citizen of an empire or a kingdom who is one half so devout in maintaining a title as are the people of the "great republic," and as far as the remark is applicable at all, we imagine that it is true. Does anybody believe that the Americans who forever are fawning upon some scion of aristocracy gravely love the institutions of the land of freedom? Perhaps they do, but the symptoms of their disease are against them.

A.J.W.

Always Busy.
Who? B.T. Scott, the talk of the Valley. Why? Because his way of doing business attracts business. That's right, Mrs. Kaiser. People usually like to buy of a store that has the appearance and name of being progressive and up to the times. Yes, that is Scott exactly, Mrs. Day. He and his clerks are so intensely respectful to everybody, "rich and poor alike." When I go to Scott's store I feel at home. It's the most accommodating store in Fresno, as everything is made as pleasant as possible for buyers, and his prices on groceries are always the lowest. All goods warranted, and if not as represented, your money will be refunded. That is Scott out and out. So go it, old boy.

The Discovery Saved His Life.
Mr. G. Gallhouse, Druggist, Beaverville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with jaundice and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store, I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it." Get a free trial at Webster Bros' drug store, cor. K and Mariposa streets.

Cure for Headache.
As a remedy for all forms of Headache Electric Bitters has proved to be the very best. It effects a permanent cure and the most dreaded habitual sick headaches yield to its influence. In cases of habitual constipation Electric Bitters cures by giving the needed tone to the bowels, and few cases long resist the use of this medicine. Try it once. Fifty cents and $1 at Webster Bros' drug store, cor. K and Mariposa streets.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.
The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Webster Bros., corner K and Mariposa streets.

ESPECIALLY IN DRUGS

The Best is Always by Far the Cheapest.
That old but true saying that "the best is the cheapest" is true when applied to any line of business. But its importance and force are felt more in the line of drugs and chemicals than in any other commodity. The absolute necessity of good, pure, wholesome drugs in cases of sickness is so apparent that no chances should be taken in an attempt to save a few cents on the price of an article. Our leading druggists, Baker & Colson, are selling goods as cheaply as they can be bought anywhere, quality and purity considered.

When you attempt to get drugs cheaper than their figures you are in danger of getting an inferior article. Bear this in mind when buying medicines or having prescriptions filled.

OLEANDER ITEMS.

Personal Mention and Items of a Local Nature.
Rev. O. A. Munn spent Thursday and Friday in Oleander.
W. H. Wood of Fresno is visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Barrows at this place. The Salvation Army is still holding its mid-week prayer meeting on Thursday evening. The meetings are very well attended.

The Good Templar lodge was pleasantly entertained at the home of Mrs. Eliza Harrison on Wednesday evening, in honor of the birthday of her daughter, Miss Nellie. Games, music and refreshments were among the entertaining features of the occasion.
On Monday evening, March 10th, G. Wharton Jaume will deliver a lecture in the Congregational church entitled "Between the Gates." For many years held state in New York harbor was the dread of the incoming sailors. This is the eastern gate. The Golden Gate is known the world over for its sunset glory, and it has made San Francisco and California famous. This is the western gate. Mr. Jaume has made the trip between the gates many times and in the lecture will rapidly outline the most interesting features of a journey across the continent, visiting New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis and some of the striking portions of our own state. Over 100 fine illustrations will be used.

To the Cemetery.
Parties desiring to visit the cemetery on Sundays, Tuesdays and Thursdays may do so by calling up telephone 116. Twenty-five cents for round trip.

Kidney.
E. W. JOY COMPANY—Gentlemen: I have suffered from kidney troubles for two or three years. I would have to get up in the night to void my urine from ten to fifteen times. My sleep was disturbed, and I became very thin and nervous. No appetite, bowels constipated. I have taken two bottles and gained fifteen pounds. Sleep well. Have to get up about three times during night, and am very much better in every respect. Will continue to take your Vegetable Sarsaparilla, for believe it will entirely cure me.

Not to be Trifled With.
From the Cincinnati Gazette.
Will people never learn that a "cold" is an accident to be dreaded, and that when it occurs treatment should be promptly applied? There is no knowing where the trouble will end, and while complete recovery is the rule, the exceptions are terribly frequent, and thousands upon thousands of fatal illnesses occur every year ushered in by a little in judicious exposure and seemingly trifling symptoms. Beyond this there are today countless invalids who can trace their complaints to "colds," which at the time of occurrence gave no concern, and were therefore neglected. When troubled with a cold use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is prompt and effectual; 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Smith Bros., cor. Hughes hotel.

In the Superior court of the state of California,
County of Fresno,

vs.

Societe Francaise d'Expatriation et d'Immigration, Plaintiff; J. W. L. Fitchall, Defendant.

J. P. Hunt, Mary A. Bell, John Doe Ball, Henry A. Fitchall, Henry A. Fitchall, J. M. Fitchall, Henry A. Fitchall, Richard Ross, Mary Lee, and Sam Lee, Defendants.

Aetion brought in the Superior court of the county of Fresno, state of California, and the complaint filed in said county of Fresno, in the office of the clerk of said court.

The People of the state of California send greeting to W. L. Fitchall, W. F. Fitchall, Mary A. Bell, John Doe Ball, Henry A. Fitchall,
J. M. Fitchall, Henry Doe, Richard Ross, Mary Lee,
and Sam Lee, defendants.

YOU ARE HEREBY REQUESTED TO APPEAR X in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff in the Superior court of the county of Fresno, state of California, and to answer the complaint filed therein, which commences the contents of the day of service after the first convenience of the day, if you do not observe on or before the first convenience of the day of service, or if served elsewhere, within thirty days.

The said action is brought to obtain a decree of this court for the foreclosure of a certain mortgage described in the final judgment in this cause of the said county of Fresno, to-wit: In No. 272 of date of March, 1900, and recorded in the office of the county recorder of said Fresno county, March 27th, 1900, in Liber 72 of mortgages, at page 191 et seq., to secure the payment of a promissory note for six thousand dollars ($6,000), executed by the defendant W. L. Fitchall, to the plaintiff on the 22nd day of March, 1900, and that therein it may be decreed
and adjudged as follows:

That said face thereof shall be corrected and reformed so as to cause the description of the tract actually therein described to be corrected in the following particulars: That the course therein written "Thence running thence from said point westerly along the north line of said quarter section 20 claims, more or less, to a point distant 20 chains west of northeast corner of said section," be corrected and reformed
so as to read as follows: "Thence running from said point easterly along the north line
of said quarter section 20 claims, more or less,
to a point distant 20 chains west of northwest corner of said section;" that the course therein
written "Thence at right angles southerly 70
chains, more or less, to the south line of said quarter section," be corrected and reformed so as to read as follows: "Thence at right angles southerly 73 chains, more or less, to the south line of said quarter section;" that the course
therein written "Thence at right angles westerly along the south line of said quarter section to a point distant 12 rods and ten feet east of the northeast corner of said quarter section," be corrected and reformed so as to read as follows:
"Thence at right angles westerly along the south line of said quarter section to a point distant 12 rods and ten feet east of the northwest corner of said quarter section;" and that the course therein written "Thence at right angles northward 12 rods and ten feet to the north line of said quarter section," be corrected and reformed so as to read as follows: "Thence at right angles northward 12 rods and ten feet to the north line of said quarter section."

2 That the plaintiff has judgment against the defendant W. L. Fitchall, for the sum of $5000 in gold coin, with the interest amounting to $1000, due to October 27, 1891, and accretive interest as in said note provided, together with one per cent on the amount found to be due as outstanding loan, together with said 500, so paid, as well as interest at the rate of two per cent annually from April 22, 1891, and the sum of $20.00, so paid as taxes, and interest at the rate of five per cent annually from July 25th day of October, 1891, and costs and expenses of this action, all in full paid cost.

That the usual decree may be entered for the foreclosure of said mortgage and for the sale of said mortgage under the powers conferred by the statute of the United States, by the sheriff of the
